

ALPINOLS The Active CBD & Aloe Sports Gel

The ALPINOLS Active muscle gel benefits from the unique synergy of aloe vera and CBD which combines pain-relieving and anti-inflammatory properties. With its cooling effect it provides instant relief and promotes cartilage formation and muscle regeneration. The oil free gel quickly absorbs into the skin and strengthens connective tissue and ligaments.

Application

For acute discomfort, apply and massage into the affected areas of the body and use as a preventive measure (e.g. sore muscles).

Direction of use: apply to the affected areas.

Glucosamine sulfate

Glucosamine sulfate is a natural sugar found in and around the fluid and tissues that cushion your joints. This tissue is called cartilage. As a cartilage building material glucosamine, sulfate is best suited for the regeneration of muscles and joints that have been under high strain after intensive physical exertion.
